

Does your campus crisis planning include your International students/scholars on and off campus? Join SEVP along with FEMA Disaster Preparedness experts to learn best practices as well as governmental resources for your campus planning. Lessons learned will also be applied to all international education scenarios.

With the disasters experienced in 2017, its time to be ready and make sure you have appropriate plans in place. Whether K-12, community college, or University, come learn from the experts and your colleagues.

Speakers: Ashley Gassner, SEVP Field Representative; Willie T. Womack, Chief, Preparedness Branch, National Preparedness Division FEMA, R-IV, and others TBA
