About Us

Since 2016, Study Alabama has worked to raise visibility of State of Alabama in the international education sector. Alabama's member institutions encompass more than 150+ majors, billions in research and development, innovative global partnerships, and workforce development with an emphasis in augmenting student skills for a global competitiveness. Representing international high schools, community colleges, and public and private universities, our broad membership offers advantages for students and partners.

The pathways through U.S. education in Alabama include certificates for skills training, ESL instruction, major research in areas such as public and allied health, engineering, biomedical sciences, professional programs, and applied sciences. As one of the fastest growing markets in the U.S., Alabama offers opportunities for affordable, accessible education, living, and quality of life. The southeastern regions noted reputation for hospitality, rich history and culture offer a unique and robust environment for students and scholars growth.

Why Choose Alabama?

The State of Alabama offers a diversity of academic settings as well as communities that stretch from the U.S. Gulf of Mexico beach coastline in the south, to the Appalachian Mountain region that stretches northward along the eastern section of the U.S. Reasons to choose Alabama:

- Affordable tuition and cost of living
- Cultural Diversity and Inclusion
- Rich History and Culture
- STEM Opportunities
- Global Career Opportunities
- Beautiful Natural Environment
- Support for International Students

Study Abroad

Education Abroad in the context of institutions in the United States is defined as experiences outside of the U.S. connected to a student's academic program at a U.S. institution of higher education. Join over 3,000 Alabama students studying abroad each year blossoming in personal and professional growth. Students should contact the university or college advisors at any of the Study Alabama member institutions listed on the following pages for more information.
